The promoters firmly believe in academic auditing and the institute SKIT has been accredited by the National Board of Accreditation, Tata Consultancy Services (for placements) and also by companies like IBM, Infosys Technology Ltd. and Sun Microsystems. Arrangements for academic auditing for the university will be finalized by the Board of Governors in due course.

8. JUSTIFICATION

The Government's policy of liberalization, privatization and globalization since the early eighties has lead to rapid industrialization and economic growth and as a result thereof, engineering, technical and professional education in India has been developing faster than anywhere else in the World. The success of the software industry in India in terms of its global impact has clearly underscored the fact that Indian engineers can rival the best in the World. However, this rapid growth of the economy and resultant surge in the required number of professional graduates by the industry, seem to have led to compromises in the quality of these graduates in terms of their total development. This rat race brings with it factors like stress, competition, depression, limited social life, etc. and in the long run it will only be those graduates and post graduates, with strong values and all round development, who will survive, grow and reach top echelons.

For Technocrats & Managers Society
Of Advancement & Promotion

Chairman

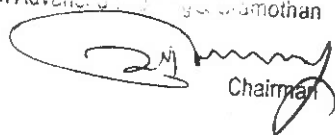

Inspired by the thoughts / ideas as propounded by saints like Keshavanand and learning from the experiences of successfully running professional Colleges, the Technocrats and Managers Society of Advanced learning and Gramothan Education Society decided to establish the SKIT University wherein the Institutes will try to develop physical, mental, emotional and spiritual faculties of students with a view to making them techno-Managers of global standard.

A lot of capacity has been created in the country for higher education in traditional fields and also in professional streams, but as has been evident from the press reports informing that several Deemed universities are being closed down, the quality of education has taken a beating and there is a strong need for educational institutions which can not only provide quality education but also provide education relevant to the contemporary and future needs of the industry and the nation as a whole.

Promoters have ensured that the Institutes at the SKIT University are the state-of-the-art and all possible care will be taken to exploit all experience gained through successfully running of such Institutes.
